

Latteria San Marco

LANDSCAPE ANALYSIS

The objective is not to modernize the restaurant in a disruptive way, but to make its identity legible and desirable in today's digital landscape, without compromising its pre-digital soul.

Scenario & Consumer Trends

- Milan today is fast
- hyper-connected
- highly visual
- Increasingly performance-driven.

The restaurant industry in particular is dominated by:

- Instagram-friendly venues,
- fast turnarounds
- booking systems optimized for convenience.

However, a counter-TREND is emerging: consumers are

- seeking authenticity
- ritual
- heritage
- meaningful experiences.

Luxury is no longer defined by ostentation, but by emotional depth, narrative, and atmosphere.

Latteria San Marco is uniquely positioned within this context.

Its primary target consists of Milanese locals and Brera habitués, with a secondary audience of cultural tourists willing to wait.

The key insight is that customers are not only looking for food, but for a place that embodies a specific idea of Milan.

Competitors such as Trippa, Sandi, Antica Trattoria della Pesa, and Masuelli demonstrate different balances between innovation and tradition. Among them, Trippa stands out for its operational discipline and strong social presence.

Our strategy draws inspiration from Trippa's clarity (short menu, rhythm, managed walk-in system) but differentiates Latteria by emphasizing explicit Milanese heritage, memory-driven cuisine, and a slower, more romantic atmosphere.

Latteria's weakness today is not its identity, but its low digital visibility. Its strength is cultural capital.

Strategic Positioning
Latteria should position itself as:
"A cultural Milanese institution where time slows down."

The core concept revolves around the phrase "Chi gh'ha temp"; Those who have time. This can evolve into a brand motto celebrating waiting as a value rather than an inconvenience.

The absence of reservations becomes a symbolic filter: entering the restaurant means accepting its rhythm. Waiting is reframed as reflection, anticipation, and shared experience. In contrast to contemporary fast Milan, Latteria represents a nostalgic, romantic dimension of the city.

BENCHMARK ANALYSIS

ACPTION

The implementation unfolds in phases, as outlined in the competitor roadmap

Phase 1 (0–30 days):
Structure walk-in management, unify seasonal menu, clarify positioning.

Phase 2 (1–3 months):
Activate storytelling: UGC themes, guestbook integration, newsletter launch.

Phase 3: (1–2 months):
PR outreach, community activation, controlled digital campaigns.

The strategy does not attempt to transform Latteria into something it is not. Instead, it amplifies its existing identity and translates it into a contemporary digital language.

The goal is not visibility alone, but cultural relevance.

Latteria does not compete on trendiness. It competes on memory, time, and atmosphere.

Driving Clients Before They Arrive

First, through digital storytelling: editorial-quality photography and cinematic video content that communicate atmosphere before product. The goal is to create emotional anticipation.

Second, through a monthly newsletter (“Three Things About Milan”), combining a dish, a thought, and a Milanese place. This positions Latteria as a cultural voice rather than just a restaurant.

Third, through selective PR targeting design magazines, cultural publications, and high-quality food journalism — not influencers, but cultural mediators.

Finally, through community collaborations (Triennale, Fondazione Prada, independent bookstores), allowing the brand to exist in the city before the physical visit.

This ensures that digital transformation is structural, not superficial.

Budget Allocation

30 k to invest

€9,000 – Editorial content production (seasonal shooting + manifesto video)

€6,000 – Website redesign (editorial, minimalist, SEO optimized)

€5,000 – PR & media outreach

€5,000 – Targeted digital advertising (geo-targeted and event-based)

€3,000 – CRM and newsletter system

GOALS

&

KPI

Goal 1 – Increase Cultural Visibility in Milan

Position Latteria as a reference point for authentic Milanese dining.

KPIs:

- +40% Instagram follower growth (organic + controlled ads)
- At least 5 features in design/culture/food publications
- 3 cultural collaborations activated (e.g., Triennale, bookstores)

Goal 2 – Strengthen Pre-Visit Engagement

Drive emotional anticipation before customers arrive.

KPIs:

- Newsletter subscriber base: 1,000 qualified subscribers in 12 months
- Open rate above 45% (quality over quantity)
- 10% of walk-in customers joining the mailing list
- Average Instagram save rate above 8%

Goal 3 – Reframe Waiting as Value

Transform the “no reservation” system into a brand asset.

KPIs:

- Positive sentiment in Google Reviews mentioning “waiting” or “worth it”
- At least 20% of new reviews referencing atmosphere or experience (not only food)
- 15% increase in walk-in traffic during off-peak hours

Goal 4 – Build a Loyal Milanese Community

Not viral growth. Real belonging.

KPIs:

- 30% repeat customers tracked through CRM
- Newsletter click-through rate above 10%
- Minimum 2 cultural micro-events with full

where time slow down...

The visual direction chosen for Latteria's Instagram page is inspired by an Editorial Luxury Lifestyle Photography aesthetic, with a warm, cinematic, and refined tone. This is not simple food photography, but a visual narrative that blends people, space, light, and materiality into a cohesive and timeless atmosphere. The images do not isolate the dish; instead, they place it within a moment... a hand serving, a lived-in table, a dining room that breathes. The lighting is warm and golden, the tones are soft and natural, and the materials ... marble, wood, framed artworks, white tablecloths contribute to creating an intimate, domestic feeling. The overall vibe aims to make Latteria feel like home: a place that evokes grandparents, traditional cooking, warmth, and comfort. It is a space where one can relax and reconnect with the romantic, authentic Milan that so many people have loved. This is a quiet, cultivated form of luxury, not ostentatious, but rooted in memory rather than modern spectacle.

The image shows the phrase "Chi gh'ha temp" written in a highly decorative, flowing cursive script. The letters are interconnected, with long, elegant flourishes extending from the 'C' and 'p'. The overall style is reminiscent of traditional Italian calligraphy.

The Milanese phrases written over selected images reinforce this identity and become part of the brand language. “Chi gh’ha temp” (Those who have time) is not just a dialect expression, but a statement of intent. It has the potential to become Latteria’s motto, celebrating waiting and the art of savoring time slowly, as people once did. In a restaurant where reservations are not accepted and guests must wait their turn, time is not framed as inconvenience but as a moment of reflection and shared anticipation before the meal. It is an invitation to detach from today’s fast-paced, frenetic Milan and step into a slower, more romantic era, where dining is a ritual rather than a rushed act of consumption.

The image shows the phrase "La sala la parla" written in a cursive script, similar in style to the one above but with slightly different flourishes. The 'L' at the beginning is particularly large and ornate, with a long tail that loops back. The script is elegant and fluid.

“La sala la parla” (The dining room speaks) highlights the soul of the space. The dining room is not merely a physical setting, but an archive of stories, memories, and relationships. The walls covered in framed artwork, the close tables, the quiet conversations, and the familiar service communicate more than any marketing campaign ever could. The restaurant itself speaks through its atmosphere, even before the menu is opened.

Together, the imagery and the Milanese phrases create a coherent narrative that does not attempt to chase contemporary Milan, but rather preserves and reinterprets its most authentic memory.

LATTERI

PILLARS

MEMORY & HERITAGE

The Milan That Endures

Content includes:
- The dining room filled with framed artworks
- Vintage details and archival elements
- Short reflections on Milanese traditions
- Dialect phrases integrated into visuals

O b j e c t i v e :
To build cultural authority and emphasize historical rootedness.

M e s s a g e :
We are not a new restaurant.
We are a living memory.

TIME & RITUAL

Chi gh'ha temp – Those Who Have Time

Content includes:
- The queue outside
- Moments of waiting
- Hands writing the daily board
- Slow, deliberate service
- Tables gradually filling
- Handmade preparations

O b j e c t i v e :
To transform the walk-in policy into symbolic value.

M e s s a g e :
Time is not wasted here.
It is experienced.

PEOPLE & HUMANITY

Quij de semper – The Ones Who Have Always Been Here

Content includes:
- The owners
- The cook
- Long-time customers
- Natural portraits
- Gestures, smiles, human interactions

O b j e c t i v e :
To humanize the brand and create emotional attachment.

M e s s a g e :
This is a place where people know each other.

TABLE & ATMOSPHERE

La sala la parla – The Dining Room Speaks

Content includes:
- Carefully set tables
- Warm evening lighting
- Glassware, marble, linens
- Dishes contextualized within the space

O b j e c t i v e :
To communicate the feeling of being there, not just the food.

M e s s a g e :
It's not only about eating.
It's about belonging to the moment.

SEASONAL KITCHEN

Milan on the Plate

Content includes:
- Seasonal dishes
- Raw ingredients
- Artisanal preparation
- The handwritten daily board

O b j e c t i v e :
To communicate quality and seasonality

M e s s a g e :
Few dishes. Serious cooking.

CONTENT DISTRIBUTION STRATEGY

recommend starting the Instagram page from scratch. During the first week, three posts will be published:

- One post showcasing the location.
- One post about the history of the place.
- One post introducing the owners.

Alongside photos and reels, daily — or at least very frequent — stories will also be shared, following the same content pillars mentioned above. These will include reposts of customers' stories and newspaper articles.

Additionally, on-site we will encourage customers to check out the new Instagram page and the new website.

CONTENT STRUCTURE

Week 1

Tuesday → Memory & Heritage

Saturday → Table & Atmosphere

Week 2

Wednesday → People & Humanity

Sunday → Time & Ritual

Week 3

Thursday → Seasonal Kitchen

RESTAURANT IMPROVEMENT

food for thoughts Chi gli ha tempo

What scent brings you back home?

If you could slow down one moment of your life, which would it be?

At the table, is it better to speak or to listen?

What was your grandmother's signature dish?

If you could invite three people, living or dead, to dinner here, who would they be?

GAMES options?

How to play:
Pick a game.
Take turns.
Enjoy the moment.

Word Chain
Say a word & pass it on.

QUIZ

What Kind of Milanese Diner Are You?"

- When you wait in line, you:
 - A) Check your phone
 - B) Look around and observe
- At dinner, you prefer:
 - A) Efficiency
 - B) Atmosphere
- Your ideal table feels:
 - A) Modern and minimal
 - B) Warm and lived-in
- Milan to you is:
 - A) Fast and ambitious
 - B) Layered and nostalgic
- The best meals are:
 - A) New and trendy
 - B) Familiar and meaningful
- At the table, you are:
 - A) The storyteller
 - B) The listener
- Waiting means:
 - A) Lost time
 - B) Anticipation

brochure...

Seasonal menu featuring some of the most traditional Milanese dishes. The menu will also be written in the Milanese dialect (with translation). Introduction of a sign warmly explaining that reservations are not available, encouraging conversation among guests, and the hiring of a staff member dedicated to managing the queue and providing updates to those who are waiting.

Vintage lamps

FRONT VIEW

TOP DOWN VIEW

The vintage table lamps enhance the restaurant's atmosphere with a warmer, more intimate light. Coherent with the space's nostalgic identity, they elevate the dining experience and create visually appealing moments that naturally encourage organic social sharing.

OMNICHANNEL STRATEGY

OWNED MEDIA

(Fully controlled assets)

Website

The website should not look like a restaurant website.

Structure:

- Almost empty homepage
- One manifesto sentence
- Ambient photography
- Brief history
- Essential information only

No booking system.

No aggressive CTAs.

No promotional banners.

Newsletter

Frequency: twice per month.

Format:

“Three Things About Milan”

- One dish
- One thought
- One Milanese place

Tone: intimate, reflective, cultural.

EARNED MEDIA

(Managed but not owned platforms)

Target:

- Design magazines
- Cultural publications
- High-quality food journalism

Strategy:

No influencers.

Invite journalists and creative directors.

CONTROLLED MEDIA

(Managed but not owned platforms)

Instagram

Role: inspiration and discovery.

Tone:

- Minimal captions
- No exaggerated emotional copy
- No trend-chasing
- No influencer culture

PHYSICAL EXPERIENCE

- The handwritten daily menu becomes daily content.
- Small printed card:
“If you want to know what happens here, leave us your email.”
- Merchandising (sold only in-store):

Tablecloths

Typographic posters

Photographic book

No e-commerce.

Objects must feel discovered, not marketed.

DATA & CRM

(The hidden engine of the strategy)

Customer database, Segmentation:

- locals
- creatives
- press
- international

COMMUNITY & NETWORK

Build a Milanese cultural circuit.

Collaborations with:

- Triennale Milano
- Fondazione Prada
- Independent bookstores
- Local designers

Objective:

Cultural relevance and symbolic capital, not visibility metrics.

Production Plan

CONTENT PRODUCTION

Annual Deliverables Overview

Activity	Frequency	Output	Objective
Seasonal Photo Shooting	4x per year	40–60 images/year	Visual consistency & storytelling
Manifesto Video	1x per year	1 cinematic brand video	Emotional positioning
Instagram Posts	2 per week	~100 posts/year	Cultural visibility
Instagram Stories	Daily / frequent	Ongoing	Engagement & ritual
Newsletter Visual Assets	12–24 per year	1–2 per month	Pre-visit anticipation
UGC Reposts	Weekly	Curated reposts	Community reinforcement

Production Team Structure

Role	Type	Responsibility	Frequency
Art Director	Freelance	Visual coherence & creative direction	Seasonal
Photographer	Freelance	Seasonal shoots	4x/year
Videomaker	Project-based	Manifesto & cinematic clips	1–2 projects
Social Media Manager	Part-time	Publishing, captions, analytics	Ongoing

WEBSITE PRODUCTION

Phase	Timeline	Activities	Deliverables
Concept & Wireframe	Month 1	Structure, editorial tone, UX flow	Wireframe draft
Copywriting & Content	Month 1	Manifesto, history, tone	Website copy
Development	Month 2	Build, SEO setup, integration	Functional website
Testing & Launch	End of Month 2	Debug, optimize	Live website
Maintenance	Quarterly	Minor updates	Seasonal refresh

NEWSLETTER PRODUCTION

Monthly Workflow

Week	Task	Output
Week 1	Select “Three Things About Milan”	Content outline
Week 1	Copywriting	Final text
Week 2	Visual selection	Image integration
Week 2	Design & scheduling	Scheduled campaign

Infrastructure

Element	Tool	Purpose
CRM	Mailchimp / Klaviyo	Database management
Segmentation	CRM-based	Locals / creatives / press / international
Analytics	Open & CTR tracking	KPI measurement

PR & COMMUNITY ACTIVATION

Annual PR Roadmap

Quarter	Action	Output
Q1	Media mapping and press kit creation	Press kit PDF
Q2	First cultural collaboration	Cultural event
Q3	Micro-event activation	Community engagement
Q4	Curated cultural dinner	Brand reinforcement

PR Deliverables

Asset	Quantity	Purpose
Press Kit	1	Media outreach
Press Release	2 per year	Cultural narrative
Media List	Updated quarterly	Targeted outreach

PHYSICAL EXPERIENCE IMPLEMENTATION

Phase	Timeline	Action	Objective
Phase 1	Month 1	Menu in Milane- se dialect	Identity reinfor- cement
Phase 1	Month 1	Queue sign pro- duction	Waiting refra- ming
Phase 1	Month 1	Newsletter table cards	Email capture
Phase 1	Month 1-2	Install vintage lamps	Atmosphere and shareability
Phase 2	Month 3	Train queue ma- nager	Experience control
Phase 2	Month 3	CRM data cap- ture	Community building

HUMAN RESOURCES PLAN

Role	Contract Type	Duration	Strategic Function
Art Director	Freelance	Seasonal	Visual identity control
Photographer	Freelance	4 sessions per year	Content production
Videomaker	Project-based	1–2 projects	Emotional storytelling
Social Media Manager	Part-time	Ongoing	Digital consistency
PR Consultant	Retainer	6 months	Cultural positioning
Queue Host	In-house	Daily	Physical brand experience

12-MONTH TIMELINE OVERVIEW

Period	Focus	Key Actions
Month 0–1	Structural Setup	Website design, menu unification, queue system
Month 2–3	Digital Activation	Instagram launch, newsletter launch, PR start
Month 4–6	Cultural Integration	First collaboration, seasonal shoot, CRM optimization
Month 7–9	Community Consolidation	Micro-event, press features
Month 10–12	Brand Maturity	Cultural dinner, organic growth stabilization

A photograph of a man in a cafe setting. In the foreground, a large, colorful vase shaped like a woman's head with large eyes and red lips holds a bouquet of various flowers, including white and pink roses and orange poppies. To the left, a vintage-style espresso machine is visible. In the background, a man with glasses and a white shirt, wearing a dark apron, is looking down at a menu or book. The cafe has a warm, yellowish light and a blue patterned wall in the background.

Quij de semper.